PROFILE

A "2D semi-animate creature" living in Tokyo and moving between 2D and 3D.
Influenced by manga and anime, he sublimates the character images of Japan into his own style.
He struggles to relate to this world that consists of contradictions and interprets the will to overcome the walls that stand in front of him as the dynamism of life.
So that he depicts its trajectory.
The artwork expresses "things that cannot be unraveled," which intersect with each other and are intricately intertwined.

They are everywhere and nowhere.
